

Service

1. Element in maintaining structure of domination based on inequality (however benevolent)

The one being served has a right to be served.

The one serving has a duty to serve.

2. More subtle form of maintaining inequality.

The one with power serves another in need.

3. Mutual service of equals: friendship.

Self-gift in love to another who is loved

Service is not exacted. No debts are created

No dependency created. No exploitation
